TARIFF FAQs

When working with our trusted tax and legal experts and firms, you may have the following questions.

1 How much does it cost off the top to apply for this program?

This is simple! There are no upfront costs. They get paid if you get paid.

2 What is a tariff refund?

A tariff refund is the reimbursement of duties paid on imported goods when the goods are later exported or when a tariff classification is changed. This can often result in significant savings for businesses.

3 How do I know if I qualify for a tariff refund?

If you have paid duties on imported goods that are later exported or if there has been a change in tariff classification, you may qualify for a refund. They can help you determine your eligibility.

4 How do I apply for a tariff refund?

They can help you navigate the highly complex U.S. Customs and Border Protection (CBP) agency process and ensure that your application is submitted correctly.

5 Are there any deadlines for submitting a tariff refund application?

Yes, there are deadlines for submitting tariff refund applications, which can vary based on the nature of the claim. It's important to act quickly to ensure you don't miss any deadlines. They can help you understand the timelines that apply to your situation.

6 How long does it take to receive a tariff refund?

The time it takes to receive a tariff refund can vary depending on the complexity of the case and the volume of applications being processed by CBP. However, all will keep you informed throughout the process.

7 What documentation do I need to apply for a tariff refund?

To apply for a tariff refund, you typically need to provide proof of duties paid, export documentation, and any relevant invoices or receipts. They can guide you on the specific documents required for your case.

8 How much can I expect to receive from my tariff refund?

The amount you can expect to receive from your tariff refund will depend on several factors, including the amount of duties paid and the circumstances of your case. They can provide you with an estimate based on your specific situation.

9 What support does Shepherd Tax Solutions & their partners provide for tariff refunds?
